EPISODE 1

INTRODUCTION

Once upon a time
in the land of hypocrisy

There lived Da Bob
Marley puppet.

Ironically so

With No Breath, No
Flesh or Soul.

Yes once upon a Time

no rhythm no rhyme...

What? (with a disgusting
look on your face)

What? (with a disgusting
look on your face)

What? (with a disgusting
look on your face)

Sad but true so hard to believe controlled by the puppet master told when to come and when to leave.

Treated like a puppet on a string and he didn't know how to do his thing.

Now as you know the puppet master who is just the puppet of another master.

Would settle around all day pulling strings on Da Bob Marley Mouthpiece as they both listen to the beautiful vibes of Bob Marley's music as they entertained crowds for pennies and dimes...

What's wrong with that? Most people would love for that to be their calling... But the Bob Marley Marionette knew deep inside like all of us... it can't be your calling when you're not calling any of the shots. Tears in his eyes burned beckoning waiting for something more. Or at least the tears would of burned..if he wasn't a Bob Marley Figurine.

And Guess what happened next?

Episode 2

Who the cap fits?

Every Every Morning before work at 5:07am and Every Every Evening after work at 5:07Pm...

Da Puppet Master drags the Bob Marley Servant to Starbucks and orders Da puppet masters favorite drink a Flat White with 50 Pumps of espresso.

That's right 50 pumps of espresso.

Just to get through the day and the night...

As you could imagine..
It's easy if you try....
No drink for "Little Bob Marley,"
I cannot tell a lie...

Not only that "Little Bob Marley" was shoved into a Pine Box...

Slowly slowly closing closing the lid of the pine box...
Until tomorrow morning...
I guess that's not so bad
Except in a Pine Box it's hard to think outside of the box.

Simply put "THERE IS NO DREAMING IN DA PINE BOX!!!!

If you listen closely you can hear the Pine Box...

SLOWLY SLOWLY
CLOSING CLOSING...

Crrrrrrreeeeeeeeeeedaaaaakkkkkkkk

Episode 3

One Drop

For 20 Years this
Repeat Cycle Repeated...

Every Every Morning before work at 5:07am and Every Every Evening after work at 5:07Pm...

Until one morning kind of like today..

Starbucks ran out of Espresso...

Not even One Pump

Let alone... 50 Pumps...

Can you imagine the look on Da Puppet masters face?

What to do?

Oh what to do?

The pressure was on so he asked the Barista for help?
With a helpless tone?

And the Barista said you could try One Pump of CBD...

What is CBD? And is One Pump enough?

Barista says

I am a Barista

Not a Doctor

And since this is a Comic I can answer that...

CBD is natural...
It's Magical making your cells smile
From the inside out.

Barista: You wanna give CBD a try?

Reluctantly Da Puppet Master, says "Okay, Add One Pump of CBD."

Barista says "Add CBD Please."

Da Puppet Master says

“Yes, Add CBD Please?”

Which Confused Da Puppet Master because they never ever asked him to say please before...

It appeared that nothing changed
Until we all noticed Da Puppet Master left the Door Open to “Little Marley’s Pine Box...
Something small happened...
Well small right now
But when doors open
Everything is possible...

Wait til you see what’s coming next?

CBD MON COMIC Episode 4 Natural Mystic

The next morning with a Pep in his step Da Puppet Master walks into Starbucks And Orders a Flat White with One Pump of CBD.

Barista says “Add CBD Please.”

Again with the Please this confused Da Puppet Master!!!

And something changed
Once again Da Puppet Master left the door open for Bob Marley Puppets Pine Box open.

And guess what happened next?

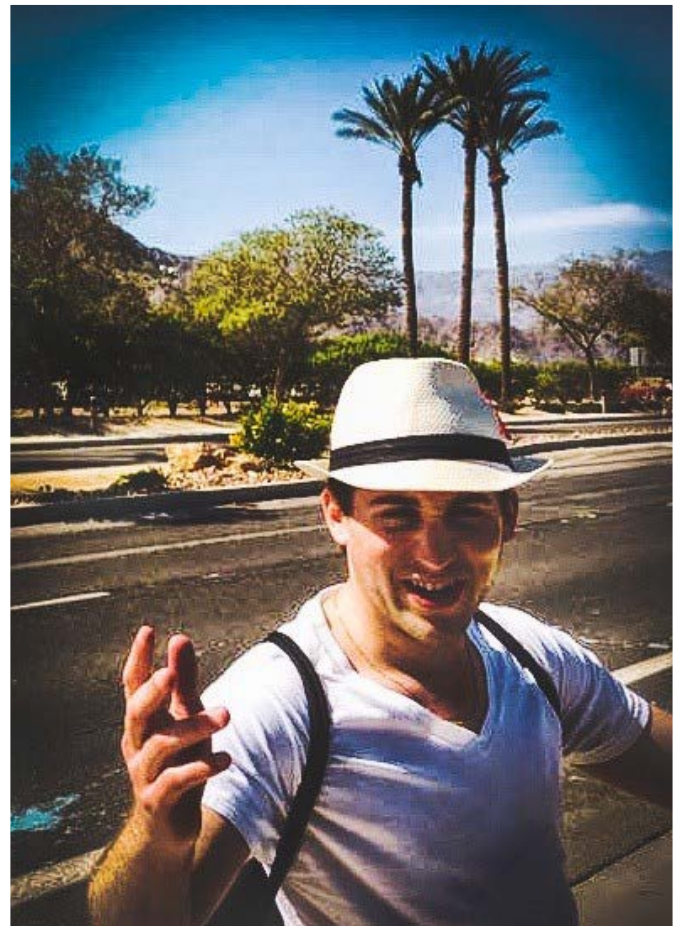

On the way back the Puppet master tripped and spilled his drink all over the Pine Box including Little Marley Puppet...

Two things happened

Da Puppet Master smiled and laughed at himself instead of getting angry.

And second Da Puppet Master looked at the wet Bob Marley with Compassion, Love and Concern like he was a real human being with Breath, Flesh and a Soul...

Something change that day it was like the two of them weren't just going through the motions.

As they went through their day

They both started Smiling inside and out like a cell under the influence of
CBD. And if you look really closely Bob Marley's Strings Disappeared...Just like yours!!!

That evening at Starbucks Da Puppet Master ordered “A Flat White with One Pump of CBD and One Pump of CBD on the side for “Little Bob Marley.”

The Barista says “Add CBD Please.”

And this time instead of getting confused Da Puppet Master discovered “Add CBD Please” is the brand name. As he connected with the Barista showing vulnerability with a Childlike laugh and smile...

DiscreetWellness.com

That night while sleeping Bob Marley started to Dream about getting outside the box like all of us do...
Even about living life without Strings or a Puppet master.

Episode 5
Meet Blackie Guru

The next morning again with a pep in his step Da Puppet
Master walks into Starbucks And Orders a Flat White with One Pump of "Add CBD Please." and One Pump of "Add CBD Please" on the side for Bob Marley.

And once again something changed
Da Puppet Master not only left the door open of the pine box but he let Bob Marley have his own comfy chair.

And lull and behold he got the opportunity to observe a series of Divine appointments with Starbucks customers and Blackie Guru the Starbucks Guru.

Blackie Guru is the $1,000 a minute Starbucks Guru...Just order him off the Starbucks menu along with your favorite drink.

*Enlightenment is guaranteed in 5 minutes or less or your coffee is free.

Wow Bob Marley Loved the freedom in Blackie Guru's words and actions. Bringing up more questions than answers...

Health qualities of CBD and Medical Marijuana

*This research is paid for by BobCapella.com

Overview

Marijuana and CBD work by acting on the body's endocannabinoid system. This system's main job is to maintain homeostasis and help the body adapt to outside stressors.

There are two main types of cannabinoids-endo (produced naturally within the body) and phyto (produced from a plant).

CBD is one type of phytocannabinoid. Phytocannabinoids mimic endocannabinoids, so they can act like a supplement, giving you a boost beyond what your body can produce.

Receptors for cannabinoids are found in the digestive, reproductive, nervous, and immune systems.

Because cannabinoids interact with almost every system in our bodies, they're often touted as a cure-all. While they're not truly able to heal everything, they do regulate neurotransmitter function, inflammation, mitochondrial function, and metabolism.

Medical Marijuana can help you lose weight?

You may be thinking 'But what about the munchies?' Well, you're right and you're wrong; we eddoesn't make you hungry but rather intensifies your taste buds. In fact, numerous studies have proven that on average a medical marijuana user is thinner than a non-user. This comes down to the fact that marijuana helps to regulate your body's production of insulin, which in turn helps you to manage your caloric intake.

Medical cannabis can help treat depression?

This belief actually goes back thousands of years and cannabis is widely known as the 'green Prozac' for its ability to help treat depression. Depression is the most common and least talked about mental illness in the United States. While there is no definitive proof that medical cannabis can treat depression in the long term, numerous studies have suggested that it does. With moderation, cannabis is known to increase serotonin levels (the happy hormone) in your body, which in turn acts as an anti-depressant and has proven to be incredibly effective.

Medical marijuana can help prevent and regulate diabetes?

It's important to note that medical marijuana is also really effective at helping to both treat and completely prevent diabetes. This is down to its ability to help your body regulate its insulin production and body weight.

Medical marijuana vs alcohol

While cannabis has been demonized, alcohol has long been considered a socially acceptable pastime. However, alcohol is much more harmful to your body than weed is. With the advent of the medical cannabis card in California and the slow legalization of weed this is likely to change. With moderation, MMJ is a much safer alternative to the long-lasting and permanent effects of alcohol.

Medical weed can help prevent Alzheimer's?

Unfortunately, while cognitive illnesses are completely unavoidable, recent studies have shown that THC found in medical marijuana can help remove toxic plaque found in the brains of those suffering from Alzheimer's. While MM won't be able to cure Alzheimer's, it can help slow the process and lead to richer and longer lives for those suffering from the illness.

Medical cannabis can be used as a treatment for ADHD?

A little know use for medical marijuana is how effective it is at treating ADHD. While the commonly held belief about smoking weed is associated with memory loss and the lack of ability to concentrate, this is actually the complete opposite when MM is used with moderation. In fact, it has been proven that in small and regulated doses medical marijuana can help improve concentration and is an incredibly effective, cheaper and safer alternative to prescription drugs like Adderall and Ritalin.

Medical marijuana can actually help improve your lung health?

This may blow a lot of your minds but medical marijuana doesn't contain the deadly carcinogenic compounds found in tobacco products. In fact, there are a huge number of recent studies that illustrate that those suffering from serious lung conditions, including emphysema and lung cancer, that can be treated with cannabis and that the results of this treatment can see a regression in their diseases.

Medical weed can be incredibly helpful treating those suffering from PTSD?

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has long been pushing an anti-cannabis agenda but, as countless studies have illustrated, medical marijuana is actually an excellent way to alleviate some of the severe and stressful situations that arise from PTSD. As medical marijuana becomes more mainstream it will continue to treat a wide variety of traumatic experiences, especially helping PTSD sufferers.

Medical marijuana can help cure a headache?

It's true. Those who suffer from serious and even debilitating headaches can help to alleviate them with medical marijuana. Even though nonprescription medicine like aspirin, Tylenol and Advil are readily available they have a proven history of causing some severe health issues when overused. Medical cannabis is a quick and effective way to relieve a headache when used in moderation.

Viral Chicken for the Soup on Steroids!!!

If even one percent of the population - or even just one percent of one percent
- posted their ideas in one day, you'd have enough information to fill a book with world solutions.

These are the ideas behind ASimpleGuidePublishing.com... You don't have to worry about every line being perfect, just blog it. Even better: Since the book is written online, every author can add things that are not available in conventional books such as videos, audio, pictures, art, poetry and articles.

Well, We've gone and done that hardest part by writing the first chapter: "A Simple Guide to Making a Difference: Making The World A Better Place By Being YOU."

Now all we have to do is finish this collective global mission and - bam! - We'll have a book.

ONE BOOK, ONE BRAND in this ONE WORLD with unique chapters inspired by people and organization from all walks of life in our global community in the name of PROGRESS.
